Dear Steven,

I've never met you. I'm a reporter and on September 13 I met your three children, Steven Jr., Alfia and Jessica. I also met Victor, Jessica's fiancé. I never met you, but I feel as if I have. Basically, you're the Dad I always wanted, and the Dad I want to be. When Steven was talking about how you reacted to his decision to drop out of college, how you supported him when he decided to be a stay-at-home father, when I looked at your picture and when Alfia said that your eyes were amazing, green with gold flecks, with, as Steven put it, "a constant look of love in your eyes," ... well, that's when I first felt the impact of all this, what tragedy means when multiplied many orders of magnitude. All the fathers, all the mothers and daughters and sons. All the good people like you.

I don't know where you are, Steven. I don't know if I'll ever meet you. Based on what little I know about you, it's hard to imagine how you could have gotten out alive. People who are heroes every day, in all those small and unnoticed ways in which true heroism resides, tend to act in character in times of cataclysm and disaster.

If there's some way I can communicate that to you, that's all I need, all I wanted to tell you. I'm not terribly religious. Religion, for me, has always meant fly fishing. But I'd like to believe that if I write this and place it on this wall with a flower, a candle and a model car, that someone will tell someone and that eventually it'll get back to you. You are my role model, Steven Sr. And for that now, I'll get to see you every day.

Love,

Entrance Anthems

Plainsong, Mode VII

I am Resurrection and I am Life, says the Lord.
Whoever has faith in me shall have life,
even though he die.
And everyone who has life,
and has committed himself to me in faith,
shall not die for ever.
As for me, I know that my Redeemer lives
and that at the last he will stand upon the earth.
After my awaking, he will raise me up;
and in my body I shall see God.
I myself shall see, and my eyes behold him
who is my friend and not a stranger.
For none of us has life in himself,
and none becomes his own master when he dies.
For if we have life, we are alive in the Lord,

you were a comet

I didn't know
I thought you were a star
a constellation
a planet
fixed and dependable
you would always be there
shifting location slightly
from season to season
but never lost to view

I was guided by your position
everywhere I went
oriented by your existence

I only learned the truth
after the fact
when your trail was cold
and only specks of minerals were left in your wake

you were a comet
and it was your passage that I witnessed uncomprehending
not paying enough attention to every moment
it never occurred to me they were numbered finite
and would come to an end

I am left with just one question
and it can only be answered by God:

just what part of forever
did you not understand?

the scriptures of the world's leading religions
runs a single theme, expressed in astonishingly similar form:
Brahamism: This is the sum of duty: Do nought
unto others which would cause pain if done to you.
Mahabharatas L5:17
Buddhism: Hurt not others in a way that you yourself would find hurtful.
Udanavarga 5:18
Confucianism: Is there one maxim which ought to be acted upon throughout ones whole life? Surely it is the maxim of loving kindness: Do not unto others
what you would not have them done unto you.
Analects 15:23
Taoism: Regard your neighbor's gain as your own gain, and your neighbor's loss as your own loss.
Tai Shang Kan-Ying Pien
Judaism: What is hateful to you, do not to others.
That is the entire law: all the rest is commentary.
Talmud Shabbat 31a (edited) Christianity: All things whatsoever ye would that others should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.
Matthew 7:12 (edited)
Islam: None of you [truly believe] until you desire for someone else what you desire for yourself.

FIREMAN'S PRAYER

When I am called to duty, God, wherever flames may rage, give me strength to save some life, whatever be its age. Help me embrace a little child before it is too late, or save an older person from the horror of that fate. Enable me to be alert and hear the weakest shout, and quickly and efficiently to put the fire out. I want to fill my calling, and to give the best in me, to guard my every neighbor and protect his property. And if, according to my fate, I am to lose my life, please bless with your protecting hand my family and friends.

All Of You Taking Photos
I WONDER IF YOU REALLY SEE WHATS HERE OR IF YOU'RE SO CONCERNED WITH GETTING THAT PERFECT SHOT THAT YOU'VE FORGOTTEN THIS IS A TRAGEDY
SITE, NOT A TOURIST ATTRACTION. AS I CONTINUALLY
HAD TO MOVE "OUT OF SOMEONE'S WAY" AS THEY CAREFULLY
TRIED TO FRAME THIS PLACE MOURNING, I KEPT WONDERING
WHAT MAKES US THINK WE CAN CAPTURE THE PAIN, THE LOSS
THE PRIDE & THE CONFUSION — THIS COMPLEXITY — INTO A 4X5 ghost.
